

Sensing and Mapping the Marine Environment 3

16 July 2007

The one-day symposium will bring together the special interests for The Challenger Society for Marine Science (CSMS) and Remote Sensing and Photogrammetry Society (RSPSoc) through the jointly affiliated ocean colour SIG. Topics of interest include:

- Marine remote sensing: ocean colour, SAR, altimetry and Sea Surface Temperature.
- Video imagery: above and below the water.
- Marine optics and acoustics.
- Integration and data visualisation.
- GIS applications.

The symposium is being held at The Geological Society, Burlington House, Piccadilly, London. See <http://www.geolsoc.org.uk/gsl/society/contact>. Will be using the main entrance situated on Piccadilly.
